The Way We Were

This book is dedicated to that time — as hard as it may be to imagine now — when the memories of our days together have lost their clarity — when we can't quite put the name with the face, when the art of diagramming has once again receded into mystery, and the score of a particular game is either forgotten or put in proper perspective. Our systems of values and emotions will still be there, but they will have shifted gears to the future. We won't want to lose our hold on these moments, but we'll have to bow to inevitability.

This, then, is our effort to keep alive for all of us — the way we were in Kennett High School in 1980. We were confused at times; over-confident at others. Our lives were a montage; we studied; we played; we celebrated; we mourned; we worried; we were on top of the world or falling off; and all the time we were maturing. We were learning about friendship and self-discipline, and the more we learned, the more we saw how far we had to go. The things that were happening to our country taught us that there really aren't any easy answers in the world.

But the way we were — mostly — was happy. We sweated out grades or term papers or dates or football scores or personal problems — but, on the whole, yes, we were happy. We believe these lyrics are true: "It is the laughter we will remember, whenever we remember the way we were."

Indian Staff Raises $7,700

Sponsored by Mrs. Helen Wall, the Indian staff, consisting of 8 seniors and 11 juniors, began the year by selling advertisements. The business managers continued the ads sales throughout the year finally accumulating $3,700. An additional $4,000 was raised from yearbook sales which occurred in November and again in March.

As the year progressed, the Publications class recorded the important school events during the 79-80 school year. With the help of the senior members the juniors learned to write cutlines and body copy, crop pictures, make layouts, and finally transfer the rough draft to a triplicate. After materials were compiled, checked by co-editors Joe Farmer and Beth Hilburn, and approved by Mrs. Wall, they were sent to the publishers in Dallas, Texas. End product — the 1979-80 Indian.

Tatler Wins All-Missouri

In addition to publishing 10 Tatlers, the Tatler staff sponsored the Dec-a-Door, the Paperdoll and the Who's Who Contests. In late February the staff sent the Tatler to the Missouri Interscholastic Press Association, University of Missouri, School of Journalism at Columbia for state competition. For the first time in the history of KHS the Tatler received an All-Missouri, the highest rating that can be achieved. Winning in individual events were Scott Earls, second in photography, and Kim Goodrich third in sports writing.

The staff also won an Honorable Mention with their "Tatler Halloween Extra," which they depicted on Fred's Dollar Store window.

Sponsor Patt Sharp and her husband, Mr. Stephen Sharp were invited to the White House to attend a S.A.L.T. II Treaty briefing. They listened to the President's and various other presentations and were then given an opportunity to ask questions. Senator Tom Eagleton held a luncheon in honor of all Missourians attending the briefing and Mr. and Mrs. Sharp were seated at the head table. Honors it seems were abundant for the Tatler Staff this year.

Art Club Raffles Painting

Charles Burdin and Scott Keene, President, display his painting which was raffled by Art Club.

Working at the Arts and Crafts booth at the Delta Fair was the first of many activities for the 12 member Art Club. The Club, although small in number, was an active group. During the year they sponsored two art shows, one during the fall play and one during the spring play. The Club raffled a painting by Charles Burdin and sold pictures of football players in art class to the highest bidders. During the week of Halloween the members of Art Club joined in the Halloween window painting contest and won an Honorable Mention with their painting at Kroger. The money earned from their activities was used for a $100 Art Scholarship and a trip to Libertyland on May 10.

Three Qualify for State in I.E.

Throughout 1979-80, twenty-one students participated in Debate and Individual Events. A new schedule which divided the districts into northern and southern divisions was initiated this year to provide shorter travel time, smaller specialized tournaments, and a chance for students to participate in both Debate and Individual Events. Kennett also entered some large tournaments in Cape Girardeau and Jackson, MO and Jackson, TN, where they participated in such events as poetry and prose reading, humorous and dramatic interpretation, and storytelling.

On April 11, three members went to the University of Missouri in Columbia for state speech competition. Scott Earls received an excellent in radio speaking. Beccy Crafton and Sammy Pulliam earned superior ratings in storytelling and poetry respectively.

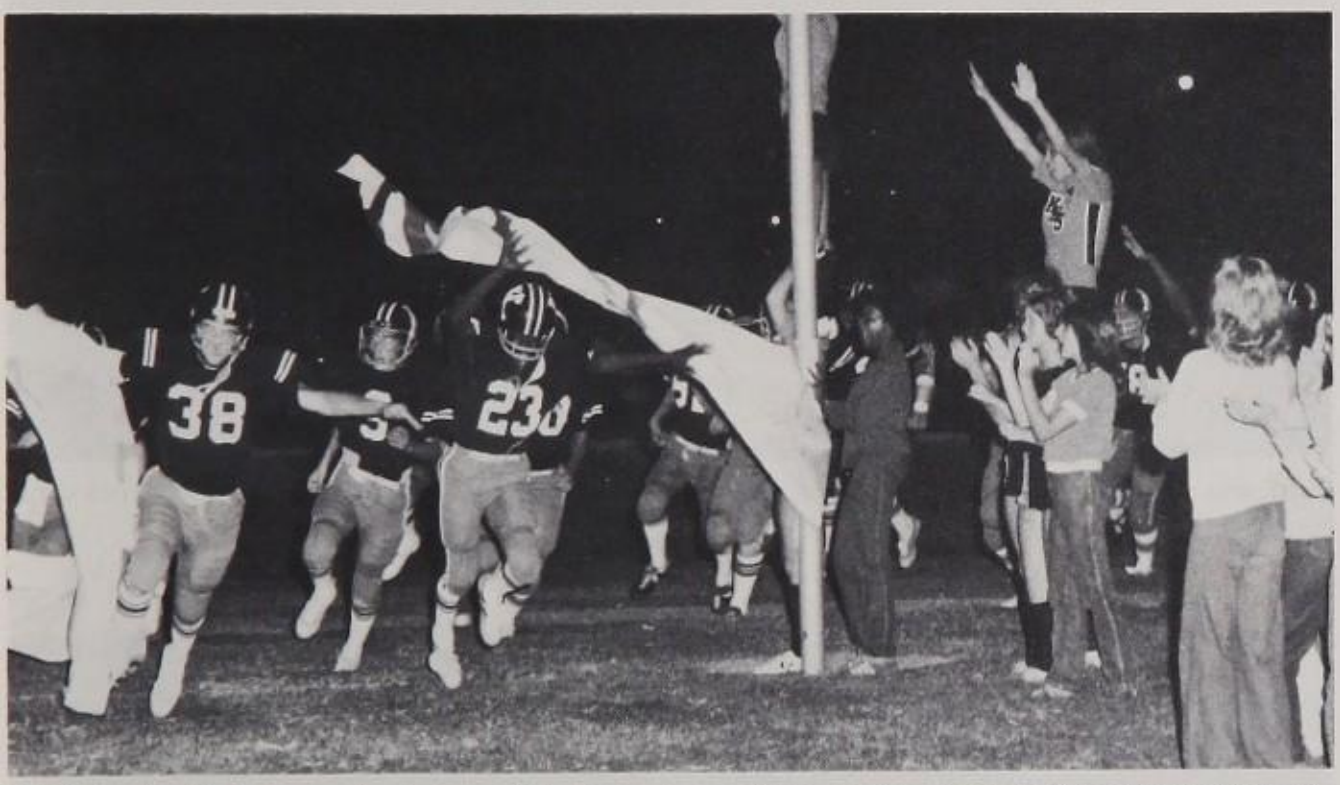
79-80 KENNETT HIGH SCHOOL PEP CLUB

Pep Club Undergoes Changes

Under a new merit system, the Kennett High School Pep Club helped to increase enthusiasm within the club. At the close of the year, different members received awards for their achievement in school activities which included sponsoring the Homecoming Dance, special projects for the athletic teams, and making signs to help promote spirit. Along with their regular Homecoming duties this year, the Pep Club sold spirit ribbons displaying "Homecoming '79' " on them.

When asked about the new system of merits, one of the sponsors, Ms. Patty Doherty stated, "I feel that if our new system is given a chance plus a lot of work from the members that it will work."



With fire in their eyes, the Kennett Indians break through the victory line of enthusiastic Pep Club members.

As the Homecoming draws near, club members Juli Vavak and Paula Floyd busily make preparations for the dance.

Cheerleaders Receive High Ratings

Sponsored by Mrs. Didi Derrick, the cheerleaders began their season June 1. Along with summer practices the girls were kept busy earning money for the cheerleading camp which they attended at Ole Miss' July 7-12. There, the girls acquired new skills in cheers, chants, gymnastics, and pom-pon routines. During camp the squad was awarded three superior ribbons, three excellent ribbons, and a spirit stick. To finance camp expenses the girls had car washes and sold spirit T-shirts. School spirit was encouraged by each of the cheerleaders, who not only cheered at games, but made posters for lockers, locker rooms, and hallways. Cheerleaders were also responsible for scheduling and planning the pep assemblies. They aroused enthusiasm for Homecoming when they promoted a bonfire at school followed by the first pep rally to be held on the square. After Mrs. Derrick's resignation at the end of the first semester, Mrs. Martha Johnson sponsored the group.

Intricate mounts give cheerleaders an opportunity to demonstrate the hard work and skill that go into supporting the Indians.

NHS Promotes Community Services

Following the induction ceremony held October 16, National Honor Society began conducting a year long series of service projects for the school and community. The club's first service project was the annual Popcorn Ball Sale October 25. This sale raised $190.00 and was later used to help fund the club's annual $200 scholarship. NHS continued its record of service in November when members delivered a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family to celebrate Thanksgiving. Then on December 20 they went Christmas Caroling at the hospital. January 15 and 16 the group held bake sales to raise money to buy seven books for the school library. For Valentine's Day the club delivered valentines to Senath's Home for the Golden Years. As a final public service NHS painted school trash cans. Their activities closed with the annual picnic in May.

Foreign Language Club Reorganized at KHS

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Nancy Swindle and Mrs. Jean Mowrer, the Foreign Language Club was offered to French and Spanish students for the first time since 1971. With approximately 50 members, the club was involved throughout the year in such activities as Piñata and Mardi Gras parties, Christmas caroling, and taste festivals. The recipes used in these taste fests were distributed as gifts to the teachers.

"The purpose of Foreign Language Club is to promote the study of Foreign Language and to enrich the classroom experience of language study," stated one of the sponsors, Mrs. Jean Mowrer. "Eating authentic dishes of foreign countries for example is not a thing that can be easily done in the regular classroom."

Mayor Signs Key Club Proclamation

Key Club Officers, Secretary-Treasurer Joe Farmer, Vice-President Tim Gramling, and President Steve Hubbard, meet with Mayor Warren Karsten as he signs the proclamation for National Key Club Week.

As the world celebrated the last of the seventies and the beginning of the eighties, the Kennett Key Club was busy helping the community in various ways. In addition to parking cars at home football and basketball games, selling seats at these games, and refereeing the little league basketball games in the spring, they purchased and delivered Christmas trees to the Delta Children's Home. They also lent "muscle power" to the Dunklin County Museum by rearranging displays.

For their money-making projects, the club sold stationery in the fall and helped the Kiwanis Club sell peanut brittle in the spring.

Early in the year, a meeting was held at the Court House with Mayor Warren Karsten and the Key Club Officers. During the meeting the mayor signed a proclamation declaring National Key Club Week.

Student Council Helps Needy

One of the first projects for Student Council this year was the Homecoming Parade and halftime festivities of the game. The first week in December they sponsored a food drive and collected can goods for a needy family.

The following week they sponsored a toy drive. The toys collected were delivered to the children at State School No. 10 by Student Council Representatives and Santa Claus himself. On December 21 the Student Council sponsored the annual Mod Assembly raising over $500 for the Delta Children's Home. Other activities this year included painting a Halloween window at the Fabric shop going Christmas Caroling and taking a poll to change the Queen crowning ceremonies during Homecoming. This poll was defeated.

Band Receives New Uniforms

Under the direction of Mr. Dennis Nail the 105 member Senior High Band began its marching season with the start of school. New attractions this year included new marching steps and the organization of a flag corps. The band presented a different image to football fans when they performed in new uniforms which the school purchased. Another new attraction for the band was marching band T-shirts which the members wore frequently throughout the marching season. Upholding tradition, the band participated in the annual Delta Fair and Homecoming parades on September 18 and November 2 respectively. On September 25 the band traveled to Poplar Bluff for the annual mass band show. The group also traveled to Sikeston to perform and to Jonesboro, Ark., November 3 for Band Day at ASU. Concert season found members perfecting such selections as "Looney Tunes Overture" and "Last Dance" for the Pop Concert in February. The Spring Concert was May 12.

Twirlers Hold Chili Dinner

The 1979-80 school year was a busy yet successful one for the Senior High twirlers. Beginning in mid-summer they attended the Arkansas State Twirling Camp in Jonesboro. Later in the summer, they held a twirling clinic at Kennett High School where the Senior High twirlers taught the younger area twirlers some simple routines and some of their tricks. They raised $300 from the clinic and bought new uniforms with the proceeds.

Other projects during the school year included a rummage sale and four bake sales. From these projects they raised approximately $150 with which they had a chili dinner at the Presbyterian Church for the senior high band members the night before the last home football game.

Alumni Pep Band Organized

Through both the football and basketball seasons, the KHS Pep Band played at various pep assemblies and at all home games. Mr. Dennis Nail, who was director, also played bass guitar for the band. The song line-up included Soul Man, This Is It, Dr. Pepper theme, Make Me Smile, and, of course, the traditional fight song, On Ole Kennett.

In early January, Mr. Nail assembled an alumni Pep Band in which KHS graduates who had been members of the KHS Pep Band got together and played at one of the home games.

Freshman Band Captures 2nd Place In Senath Christmas Parade

The Freshman Band, under the direction of Mr. Dennis Nail, began activities early in the year with the Delta Fair Parade. Soon after, they marched in the Homecoming Parade and the Football halftime of the Homecoming game where the 47 member Freshman Band joined the Senior High and Junior High bands to perform jointly.

At the end of the marching season the band travelled to Senath and participated in their Christmas Parade. They captured a second place in the contest held there.

They closed the year with their Spring Concert in which they played "Muppet Show Theme," "The Great Jubilee," "Fiddler On the Roof," and "Mexican Overture."

McDonald Makes All-District

Comprised of 37 members, the Kennett Freshman Chorus was active in events including performances in their Christmas Concert, the concert program for the Choral Clinic and the joint Freshman Band and Choral concert at the end of the year. Some of the selections sung included "The Power and the Glory," "It's My Song," "Let 'Em In," and "Find Me a Mountain." As a means of extra credit, members ushered the spring musical.

In November, the All-District chorus tryouts were held in Cape Girardeau. From the Freshman Chorus, Gene McDonald was chosen for this distinguished group. He performed with the chorus on March 28 at the district teacher's meeting.

You can stop now, Shawna. Everyone's gone!

Six Make All-District Choir

Sr. Chorus activities began early this year with students attending the All-District tryouts on October 27 in Cape Girardeau. Six members from Kennett were chosen — Judy Seaber, Janeene McDonald, Joe Farmer, Tim Carnell, Perry Faught, and Scott Pickard. On November 20 the Chorus presented its annual Thanksgiving service at the Ely Baptist Church and on December 18 they hosted their Christmas Concert in the auditorium. The Chorus, with the help of accompanists Sheryl Crow and John Dalton, wrapped up the year with the annual Spring Concert in which they sang selections from the hit movie "Grease."

Library Club Sponsors Tea

The Library Club elected Mike Wallace president, Dana Hughes vice-president, and Roberta Jacobs secretary-treasurer. During the week of November 8, Library Club members held the second Annual Book Fair. At the fair, students could purchase books from a varied selection of literature. According to Mrs. Cornelia Barnett, the club's sponsor, the fair was more successful than in the past year, raising $17.85. This money was used in May to pay for a teachers' tea. When the holiday season drew near, club members drew names to exchange gifts at their Christmas party held December 11. The Library Club also served refreshments to teachers January 11 during the teachers' workday. With these extra activities and regularly scheduled meetings, in addition to managing the library, the club was kept busy throughout the year.

FHA Meets Motto Challenge

To signify their membership, President Joanne Carter pins the traditional ribbons on Perry Faught and Greg Benson, two of FHAs' few male members.

Living up to the challenge of their new motto "toward new horizons," FHA began their active year by inducting members October 8. Immediately following induction, club members began a candy drive which lasted from October 8 to October 19, netting the club $650, which they used to send delegates to the state and national meetings and for the FHA scholarship. The club hosted the FHA regional meeting October 13. Each chapter from Region 7, consisting of 21 schools from the surrounding area, attended. The meeting helped train officers through a series of workshops. In November and December, club members took Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets to needy families. February 10-16 was National FHA week. Club members observed the holiday by donating $500.00, which was collected from house to house and from a road block, to March of Dimes.

FBLA Enters Mod Assembly

Representing FBLA, Denise Pitts, and Cindy Rickman drove a golf cart in the Delta Fair Parade for the club's first activity of the year. The business leaders next project was presenting teachers with Halloween goody bags on October 31. Club members continued their busy agenda by touring Kraft, Miles, and Tatum November 13. The holidays were celebrated by delivering homemade Christmas cards to Senath's Home for the Golden Years. Continuing the festivities, the club held a banquet in the home of Adie Hellman. Another December project for FBLA was entering the MOD Assembly where it received fourth place. February proved an especially busy month for the club. Along with the annual National FBLA week, a candy bar sale was held February 11-18, and on Valentines Day the club served teachers refreshments during seventh hour and after school. The $223.35 raised from selling candy bars was used to send participants to District and State meets held in March and April. Gina Jones was elected treasurer at the district meet.

Medical Science Club Conducts Sales

Many questions are brought to Kelly Bryant's mind as Medical Science club members hold a discussion on their calendar sale.

Surprise spreads over Rhonda Carnell's face as she poses as a patient for other club members going through patient training.

Medical Science Club's highlight of the year was the annual Capping Ceremony held January 29 in the auditorium. Fourteen girls were presented various awards for their participation in the Candy Striping Program. The ceremony was a tribute to all Medical Science Club members who served for 100 or more volunteer hours at the hospital. These hours had been accumulated since early October when Medical Science Club reorganized under the direction of Mrs. Jerris Gibbons and Mrs. Heraldeane Garrett. Club members trained for candy striping in the first week of October. To observe Thanksgiving and Christmas the girls took time from hospital duties to deliver food baskets to needy families in November and December. The club's next activity was selling calendars the last week of November. They raised $716.05. Bolstered by this success, club members took part in a placemat sale February 19-21, netting $600. A portion of these profits was used to fund the Medical Science Club scholarship of $200.

Three Receive Honors in Deca State Contest

Deca participated in many activities and fund raising projects during the year. On September 21 and 22 Laura Williams, Terry Wake, and Cindy Abbot went to Jefferson City to attend the election of state officers, and on October 13 Deca presented a fashion show at Wal-Mart. Their fund raising projects began October 22 when they sold candles. Sales continued the following week with candy bars. Money earned from these projects was used to buy a vacuum cleaner and blankets for the Delta Children's Home and to sponsor the annual Employer-Employee's Banquet in April. Some of the money earned was also used to send Deca members to the District contest in Sikeston where Mark McCaskill ranked first in Management Level of food services qualifying him for state competition on March 18, 19, and 20. Laura Williams ranked third in Employee level apparel and accessories and Linda Nash ranked third in Employee level general.

Vica Raises Money for Contests

Vica is a club that strives to show responsibility and leadership. Each year members compete in Vocational skills at the District Contest. This year's contest was held on March 15 at Sikeston. Students winning in fields there were Robert Looney, third in job skills demonstration and first in job interview; Lisa Smith, second in nurse aid and orderly; Vickie Parrish, third in specific related nurse aid and orderly. Mike Floyd placed third in Radio and TV repair and was elected district reporter. These students were eligible to attend the State Contest in St. Louis during April. Vica members earned the money needed for these trips through their Drix products sale in October and their candy bar sale in January. A record spin held on February 16 also helped to raise money.

Dr. McMullan Extends Wishes to Students

It is a great pleasure to be associated with the fine students, faculty and administrative staff members of the high school department of Kennett Public Schools. The annual staff and sponsor are to be commended for the superb job they do in covering the many activities and classes offered at Kennett High School.

It is our desire that students have a full and comprehensive educational program throughout their school years. Each one is encouraged to participate in some of the activities which are available, make a special effort to excel in class and above all strive to be a good citizen.

Members of the Board of Education and other staff members in the office of superintendent of schools join me in wishing for each of you the very best life has to offer. Good luck in your many future endeavors.

Part-Time Teaching Favored

I feel a part-time teaching situation is advantageous both for the student and the teacher. Because of fewer students the teacher has more time to devote to preparing lessons and grading assignments. In the English department, time to evaluate writing is of utmost importance. A teacher who is more relaxed because of less pressure as a result of decreased volume of papers should be able to pass on these advantages to the students. Hopefully, students would be given more opportunity to write, more individualized instruction, and more creative evaluation.

Many Students Do Just Enough to Get by

Progress and attitudes are bound tightly together in a student's life. Many students are not concerned enough with school work. There seems to be a general feeling of doing just enough to get by. Some believe it is enough to be average in their class or are satisfied in being second best. Once they leave school they are in competition with everyone in the world, not just their old class-mates.

Some say that opportunity knocks only once in life. However, for some, opportunities never stop. They are created by those who wish to control their lives rather than sit back and take what comes. These are the winners in life. Those who are ready will get the chance; those who are not will be forgotten.

Activities Mean More Than Just Pictures

Extra-curricular activities!!! They are definitely needed and beneficial to the school curriculum and to students for the purpose they were set up to achieve. Each separate activity offers opportunities to activate needs and allows students a chance to fulfill some goal. Problems which arise are not the result of the activity itself, but are created by the students who join these activities. Too many get into the voluntary act just to be in an organization with a friend, to get their picture into the annual a numerous number of times, or to get the benefits from the activity without any intentions of becoming a part of it.

Too many students enter an activity with the idea, "What can it do for me, not what can I do for it." Sound familiar?

D.E. Students Plan Careers In Marketing

Distributive education is a program designed for students planning a career in marketing. D.E. students have a real opportunity to begin occupational preparation in a wide variety of marketing-related careers. Each individual can select a special career interest and begin the meaningful, step by step process of entering that occupation.

All over the U.S., D.E. students are planning their futures in hundreds of different careers. These plans range from entry-level positions to complex high-paying jobs. D.E. students have the advantage of receiving actual on-the-job training in addition to classroom training. DECA activities and projects bring it all together to make a major step toward a meaningful future in marketing.

Marshall Enforces Discipline

Students would be better people if they practiced self-discipline which develops self-control, character, etc. Everyone receives discipline from someone. Accepting it merely shows respect for others.

I try to run a no nonsense class in Auto Mechanics. Many dangerous jobs are performed daily, and I feel that it is necessary for students to conduct themselves in an orderly manner.

I believe if a student can learn to do the wrong thing, he can learn not to do the wrong thing.

I don't agree that it is easier to get forgiveness than it is to get permission.

Preparing for Life Through Family Living

Family Living is a course offered to Juniors and Seniors in High School. As in most classes, if the student applies himself and is interested, he can gain a great deal from the class. It deals with situations that could be applied to both single and married people, such as buying a car, taxes, love, marriage, nutrition, food preparation, and others.

Through simulated situations, discussions, guest speakers and consumer projects students get an idea of some of the things they might be confronted with in their lives.

School Nurse Helps Students Attain Goals

The goal of a school nurse is to help each student reach and maintain the best physical, mental, emotional and social state possible. The nurse is around to meet individual physical needs but each person is in the process of learning new things for himself. Each new bit of knowledge, each potential or ability he might possess may be used either constructively or destructively.

His actions now have a great impact on his later years — not only in health but also his ambitions. Little things such as staying at school even though he has a headache takes on more significance when he realizes he is establishing a pattern of life with each choice he makes.

Skills Tests Administered to Students

I feel the competency examinations (BEST) will be beneficial in helping students identify areas of strengths and weakness, and it will also assist the instructors in individualizing the curriculum to meet the needs of the students. However, I am not in favor of requiring a specific score before one will be granted a diploma. The permanent record will give a four year overview of a students' performance and, in my opinion, this is more valid than any specific test score that can be affected on a particular day by ones physical condition, home situation or other outside influences.

Indians Extend Winning Tradition

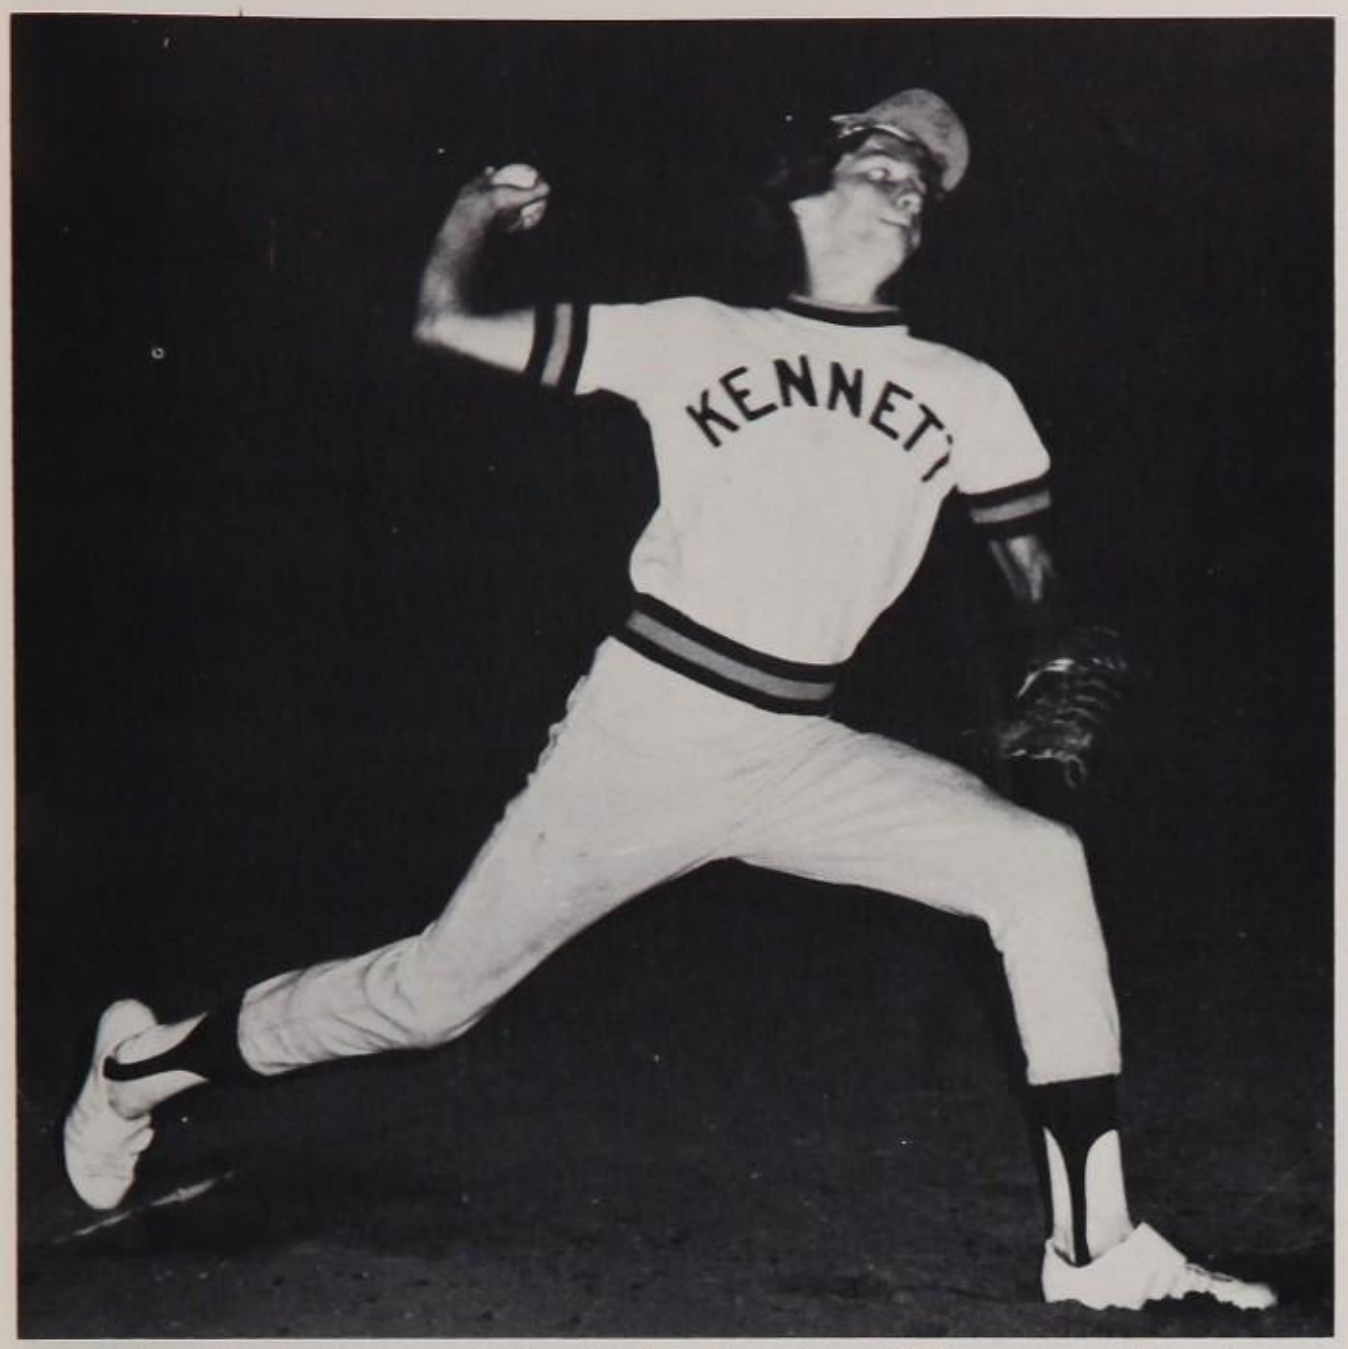
A winning tradition that has prevailed for more than five years still remained in style when new head coach Tom Lyons guided the team to a final 10-3 record for the season.

From a total of 30 boys, Lyons chose 17 to fill the 9 positions on the team. With 8 of the young men returning from last year, the tribesmen filled the positions with experience and great enthusiasm for the victory at the Tri-County Championship. Their spirits were dampened by several misfortunes in the first three games which held them out of the finals. Although the Indians were disappointed, it didn't demolish the Tribe's hopes for a good season.

In the opening game the Indians traveled to Lilbourn to face the Panthers where the game ended with Kennett underneath 11-8. Another road trip took the Indians to Caruthersville where great offensive tactics held the game to a low scoring finish. After beating the Tigers, Kennett faced a tough opponent, Hayti. The tribe held the lead until the last inning when they fell behind 12-7. After a 1-2 start the Tribe kept the winning side alive, downing South Pemiscot 2-1. They then took an astounding loss at home, leading the North Pemiscot Mustangs 9-0 in the first inning but dropping short in the end. The next five weeks fell in place as the Tribe won eight straight games in a row. The Tribe took the first three easily by winning over Clarkton, Holcomb, and Risco all by ten point margins. Following their only three losses of the year, the Indians sought revenge and halted Caruthersville, North Pemiscot, Lilbourn, and Hayti.

Successful achievement made by Mike Brown's as Eddie Foulkes travels in for a run.

Mark Hutton attempts his third stolen base of the night in a 13-3 decision over Risco.



Tribe pitcher Mike Parrent flings his first shutout in a 17-0 romp over Holcomb.

Placing a higher mark on his batting average, Steve Hubbard takes a single in a bout against the Caruthersville Tigers.

New Coach Leads Tribe

It was a hard and grueling year for the tribe. For new head coach, Bob Jackson, it was a chance to regain the faith of the Kennett fans and to better a 3-7 record of a year ago. Injury after injury, however, stacked the odds against the Indians.

At the beginning of the season the problems seemed solved — all the papers read, "The Indians are the team to beat." After the first game was lost, the team's losing streak continued through the next four games to end with an 0-5 record at mid-season. The next start of the second half of the season seemed to make it all worth while. Kennett demolished Doniphan in the sixth game but still couldn't cling to another victory and ended the season at 1-9.

J.V. Footballers Hit to a 3-3 Season

Under the leadership of head coach Bob Jackson, the junior varsity fought to a 3-3 season. The Indians opened their season playing host to Hayti. After defeating them the tribe dropped a pair to Caruthersville and Poplar Bluff. The squad then visited East Prairie and defeated them in a last second surge. After the tribe surpassed the Eagles they fell back to Sikeston. To end their season they defeated Portageville at home. The tribe was held together by outstanding running from Steve Johnson and Jimmy Green, but when the going got rough on the ground, Clay Faulkner and Duane Venters headed off the aerial attack.

A sharp cut enables Jimmy Green to get in the open and head for a first down.

In an attempt to halt a last minute surge, Ronnie Abmeyer seizes a Bulldog from behind.

After breaking an arm tackle, Steve Johnson scores the winning touchdown.

Hourd Breaks Scoring Record

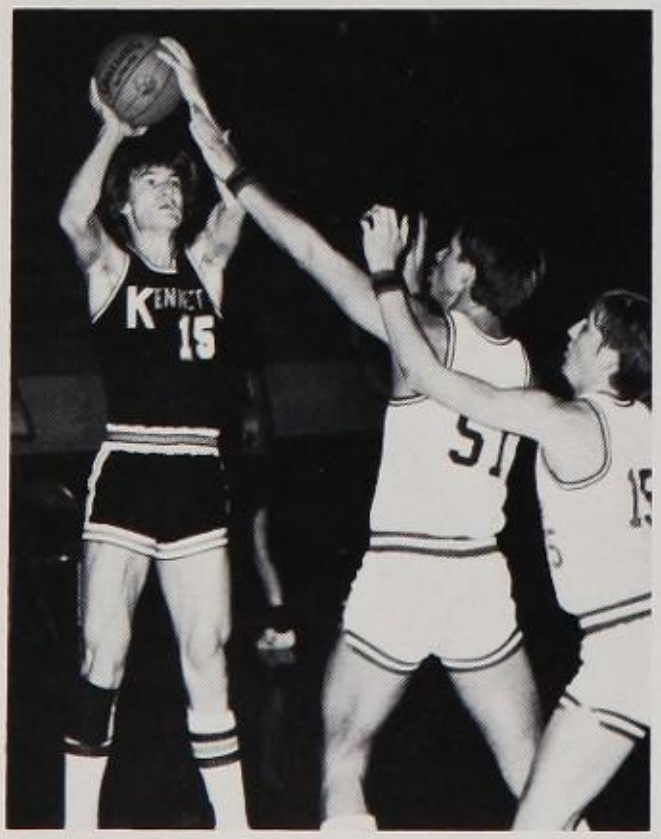
Injuries defaulted the Indians in the first games of the season. Bad strains and pulls held some of the players of the team for the remainder of the year.

Coach Tomlinson guided the Tribe to a 5-17 season output. Most of the duals were lost by slight margins in the last minutes — which showed great quality in their defensive plays.

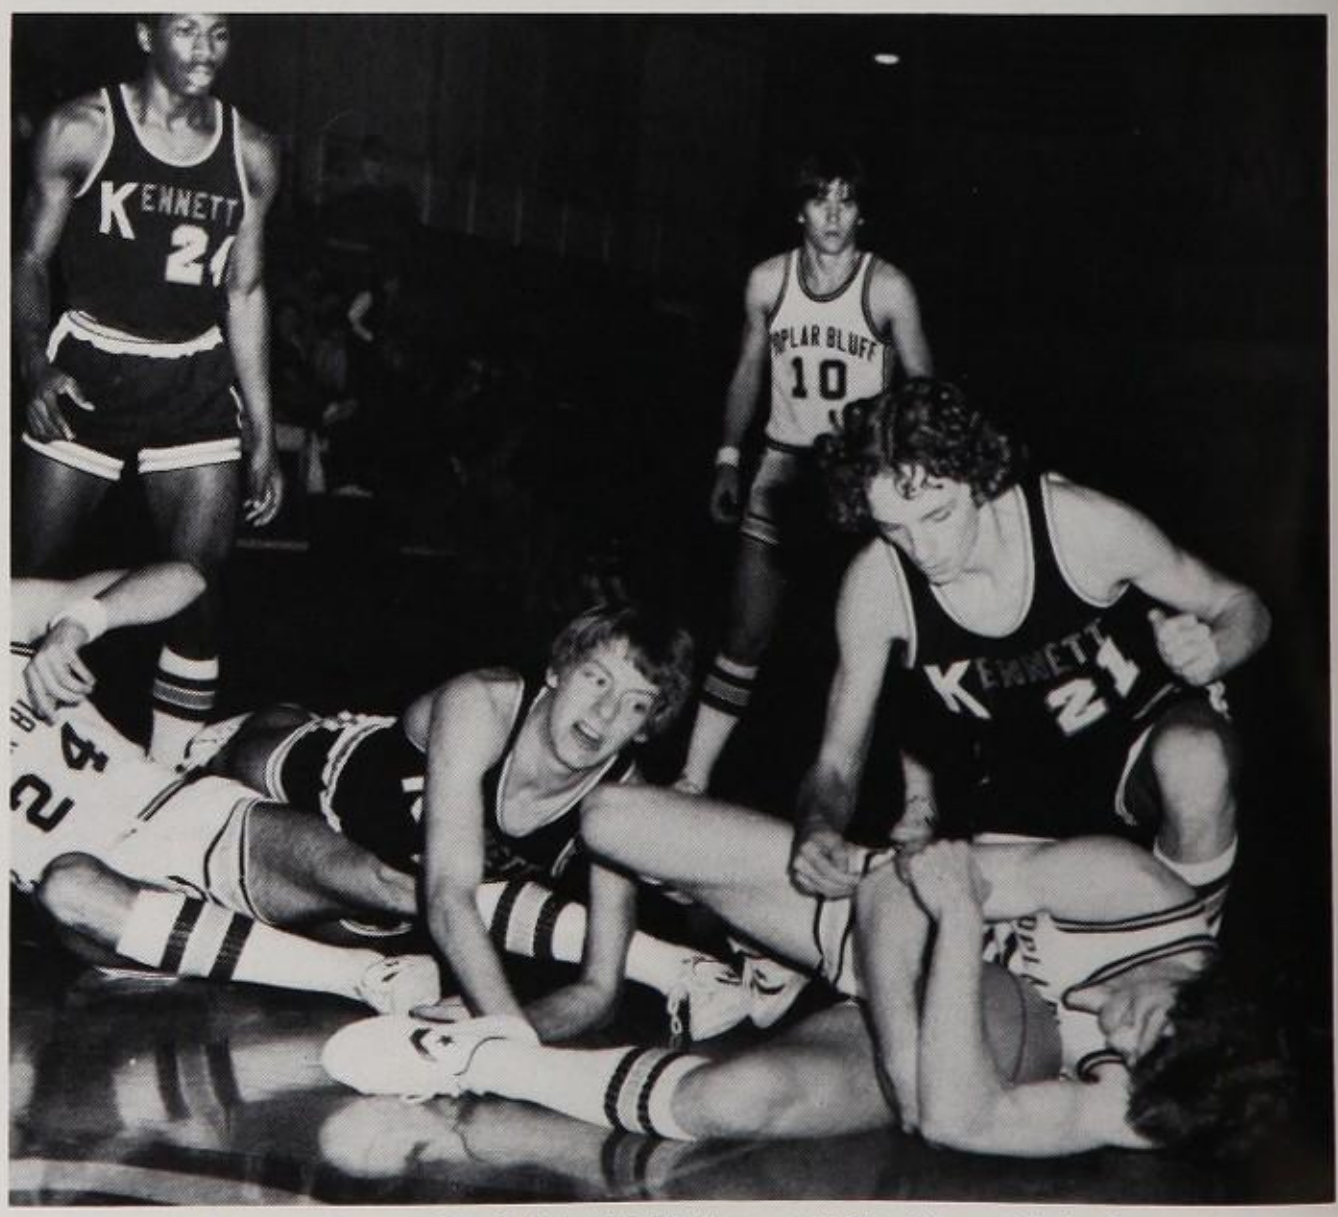
The high-scoring man remaining on the team was John Hourd. Knocking down 46 points, Hourd broke the scoring record once held by Robert Roundtree of 41. After finishing regular season play, the tribe entered the Regional Tournament. The Indians weren't picked to place high, but by winning the first two games, they notched up a third place finish.

Seniors Keith Rebstock, John Hourd, Jackie Hughes, and Britt Burcham led the Indians, followed by Juniors John McMullan and Ronnie Pulliam. Rounding off the team were sophomores Mike Parrent and Calvin Willoughby.

In an outstanding effort against Hayti, John Hourd scores 46 points, breaking the old record of 41 set by Robert Roundtree in 1976.



Senior Keith Rebstock knocks the bottom out of the net for two more points.



In a duel against Poplar Bluff, John McMullan and Mike Parrent fight for the ball.

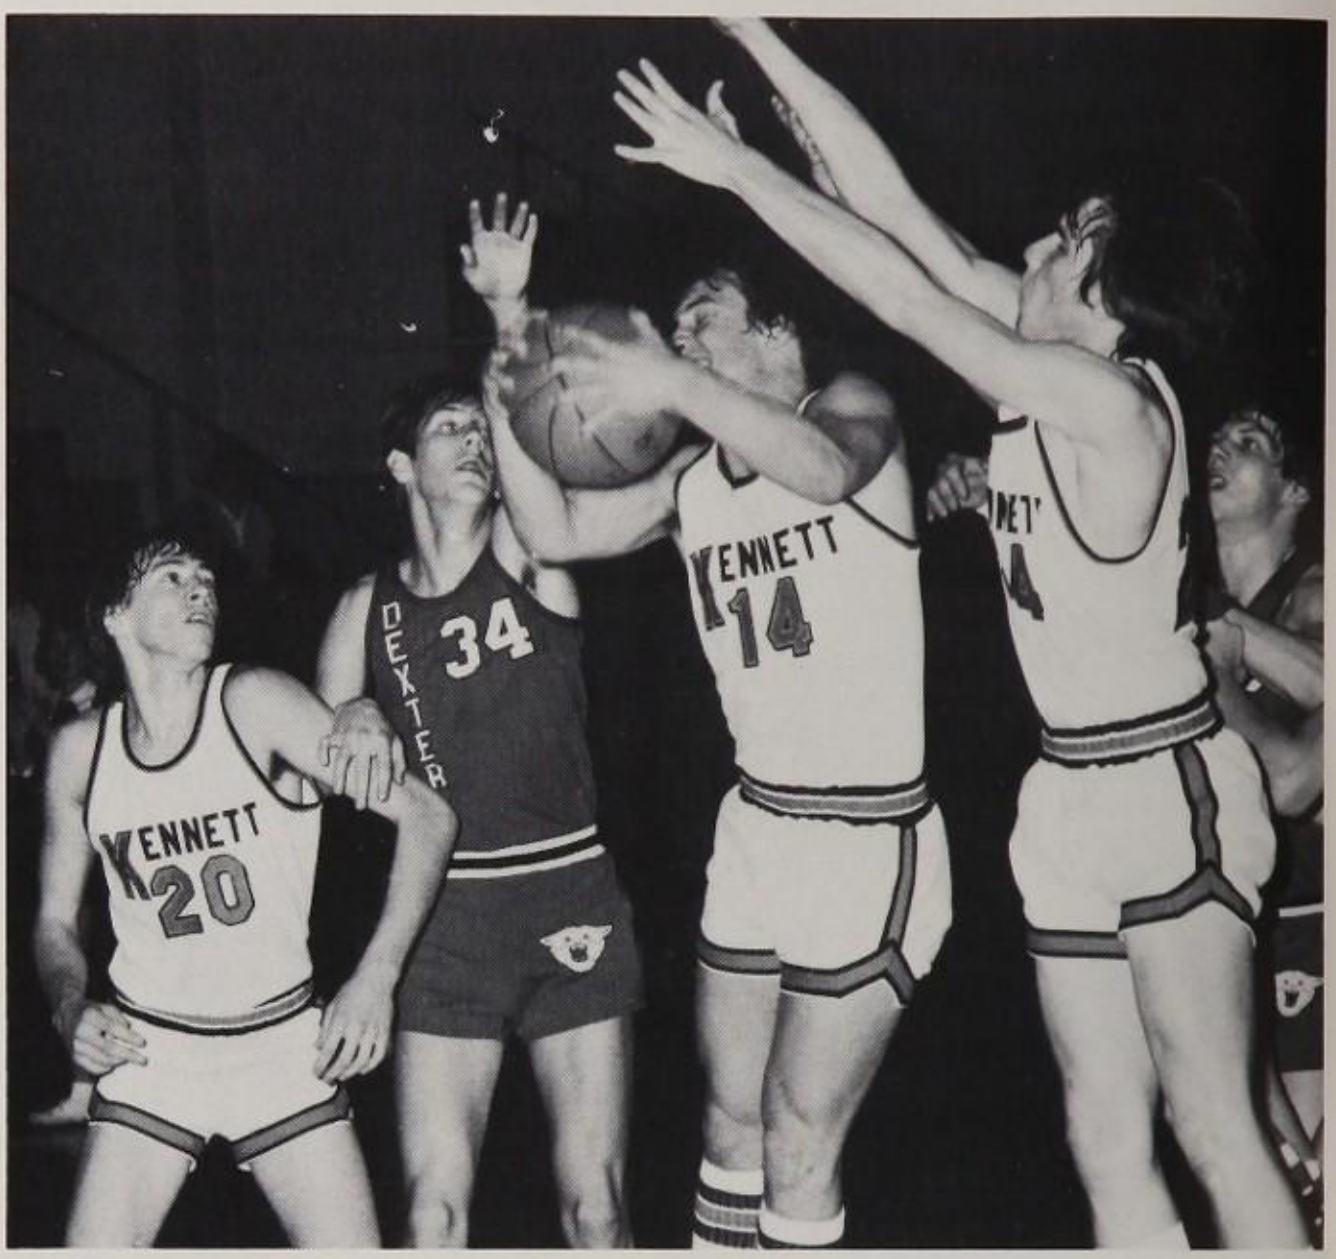
Great defensive qualities by John McMullan pull Kennett ahead of Dexter in the final minutes to win the game.

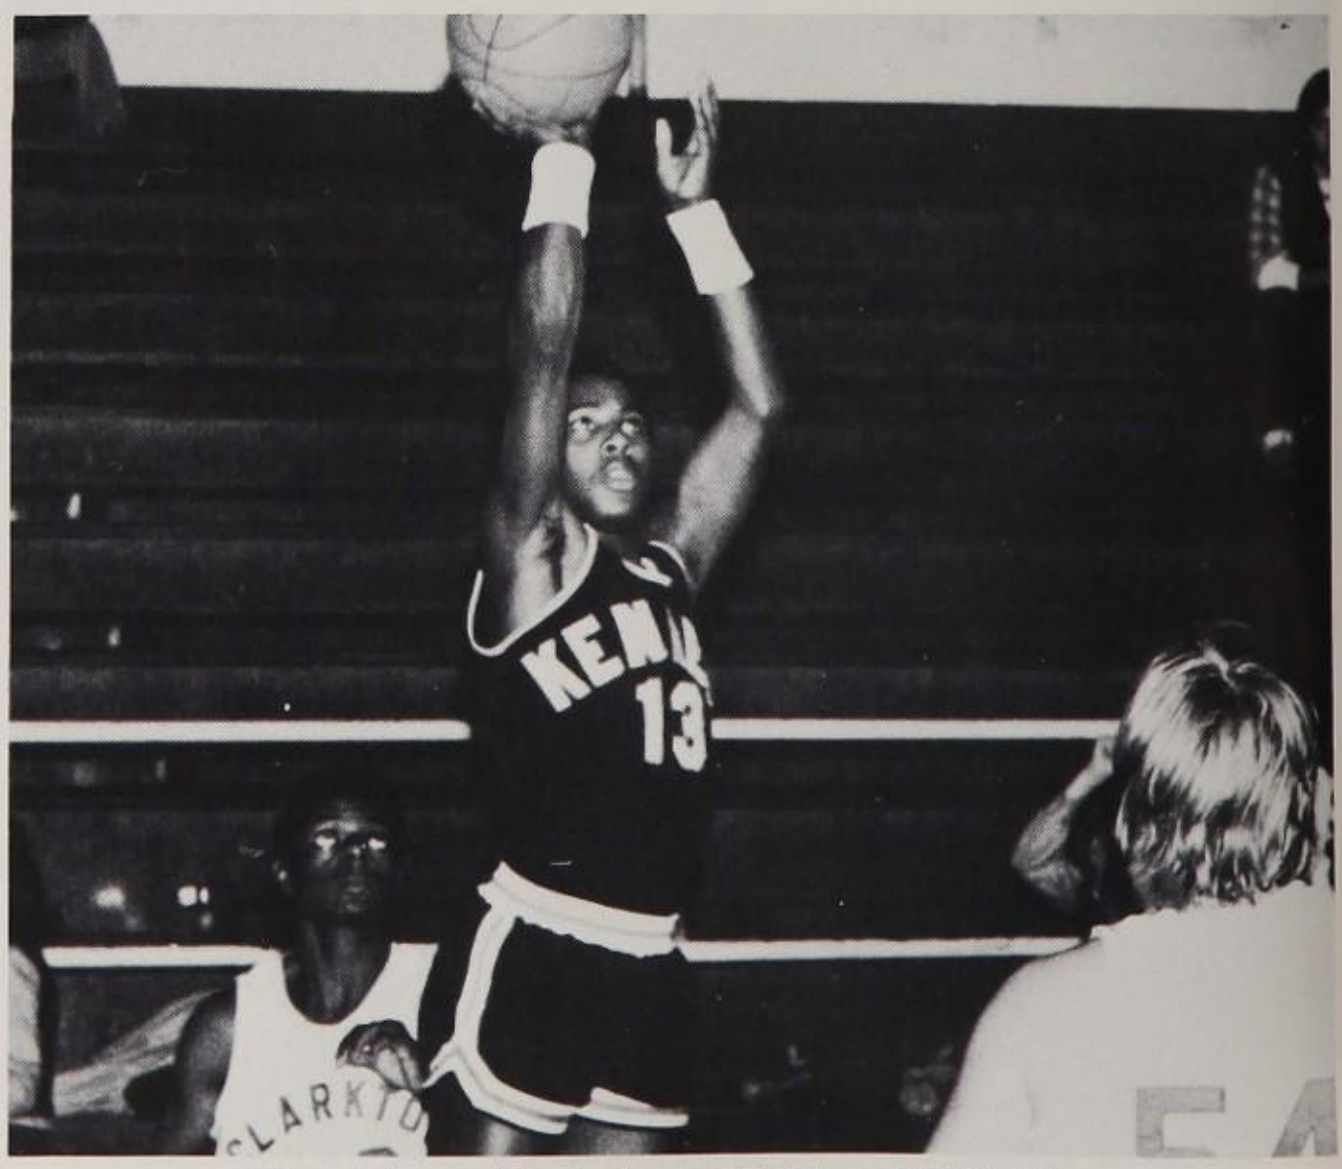
Sharp Shooting Aids the J.V. Squad

The junior varsity basketball players ended their season with an 8-7 regular season record, and 1-6 conference record. Shooting a 55% season, the Indians opened at home with a successful win over the Hayti Indians. Surpassing Hayti, the tribe then lost to Sikeston. After the Sikeston upset, the tribe won two straight, defeating Jackson and New Madrid. They then fell back eighteen points to Cape Central. The highlight of the season came with a win in the bootheel superbowl over the Senath-Hornersville Lions. Traveling to Poplar Bluff, the Indians picked up another loss. The squad then returned home to defeat Clarkton, Perryville, and Caruthersville. After their three game winning streak the Indians fell back four games, losing to Dexter, Malden, Charleston, and North Pemiscot. The squad beat Doniphan to end their season.



Blocking out and defensive struggles help the "B" Team make up for lack of height on many rebounds.

A newcomer to the Indians, Brian Damron executes quickness and some roughness to attain the ball.



Steve Johnson skies for two in a match against Clarkton.

Indians Take First in State

In the opening meets the track squad couldn't place in the top two but after the fourth meet things started ticking, and they finished with a band.

Coach Wilkerson put the members in their perspective ranks and took first in the District meet which qualified them for the State Meet.

After the first day in state competition, it seemed as if the team didn't stand a chance; they had seven points and were in a distant seventh place. During the second day however, J. Dalton placed first in the mile and 800 meters; P. Ladd and T. Parr placed third and eighth in the pole vault. A third place finish by K. Rebstock in the broad jump placed Kennett in third place. The final event, the mile relay, decided the victory between the first three placed teams. The first and second placed teams didn't place in the mile relay; Kennett placed third in the relay, just enough to put them in first by one point.

With three yards left to the wire T. Gramling edges past M. Hutton to ice a first place finish.

Miler J. Dalton holds his title by lasting out a 4:17 finish.

Just clearing the bar, K. Rebstock makes the final height of 13 feet.

Stretching for distance, K. Rebstock extends his jump to place first in the Conference.

Strongman C. Hilburn flings the discus for a 140 feet tally.

Sprinter J. Hourd, during a dual clash with Sikeston, finishes first in the 100 yard dash.

Cinderwomen Take Conference Title

The girls track team had a very decisive season this year. The young ladies started off to a slow season, but finally clipped their fourth meet with Caruthersville for a win.

Coach Billy Wilkerson headed the Indian Track Squad along with assistant coaches Tuc Boston, Nelson McCullough, Ward Billings, and Bob Jackson. Another member on the track board was Martha Johnson. Miss Johnson, a new addition to the track team, is from Caruthersville, Missouri, where she was also a track coach.

Taking mostly seconds and thirds in the conference clash, the girls pulled through the meet to place first. After the conference meet, the girls had two other important meets left, the District and State Meet. The girls didn't place highly in either event.

Extending her legs for distance, C. Tarver hurls through the air in the broad jump.

High-jumper T. Sharp makes the preliminary jump of four feet in the high jump.

Senior sprinter Kim Colbert finishes the 100 yd. dash in time for a final tryout.

Hurdler S. Crow makes an excellent effort in the seventy-five meter low hurdles against Charleston in a dual clash.

Finishing her heat in style, Murless Jefferson takes first in the 400 meter run.

Diane Hawkins shows style and form in the final setting of the Conference battle.

Ground-Pounders Take Second in Conference

With five seniors, four juniors, three sophomores, and five freshmen, Coach Billy Wilkerson, who has been with the Cross Country team for twelve years, led the boys to the Conference Title. The boys took all the dual meets by a long margin and fell in high place in the Conference and District battles. The Cross Country team was held together by two returning lettermen, John Dalton and Robert Looney. Dalton and Looney took first and second in most dual clashes and usually grabbed top notch in the main event to extend their way to the state competition. Placing twenty-second and twenty-third in overall competition at state, John and Robert took the one and two spot on the Cross Country team two years straight.

Running with the pack appeals to these cross countryers as they group together in attempt for an astounding finish.

In an attempt to extend his lead for a top time, J. Dalton sprints ahead from the start.

First Row: M. Broadway, D. Cannady, D. Dalton, J. Smith. Second Row: B. Shortnacy, J. Dalton, R. Looney, R. Hutton, J. McMullan. Third Row: G. Wright, D. Avery, B. Davis, K. Alexander, T. Sparks, P. Coombs, P. McHaney, J. Farmer, P. Ladd, G. Benson.

Julie Hyde and Suzanne Stillman stick together to pull out an eighth and ninth place finish in the Kennett Invitational Cross Country Meet.

Stillman Receives Award

The young women of the girls' Cross Country Team had still another successful season at the end of their third year. Some of the girls, "seasoned veterans" of last year's track squad, opened up strong at Poplar Bluff and continued their momentum to take them through to finish their season. Suzanne Stillman, the winner of the Road Runner Award, along with Sheryl Crow, guided the team in hard and grueling practices. Even though the team was a short cry from the Conference and District Championship victories, they held their spirit to the finish of the season.

First Row: S. Striegel, C. Johnson, L. Owens. Second Row: L. Wilkerson, C. Richardson, K. Goodrich, S. Crow, K. Paine. Third Row: S. Stillman, J. Hyde.

Senior Kim Goodrich hits the line for a tenth place finish in a dual meet against Poplar Bluff.

Crawford Competes in State Tournament

The male golfers started off at home with two straight victories defeating New Madrid and Sikeston. They then traveled to Poplar Bluff and Caruthersville and picked up a win and a loss. Returning home from the road the squad defeated Doniphan and Dexter. After dropping another to Poplar Bluff the tribe won three straight, beating Malden, New Madrid, and Caruthersville. They ended their season losing to Malden and Cape Central.

Four players extended their play in District competition. The four included Jimmy Clevenger, Tommy Legan, Roger Wheeler, and Martin Crawford. Crawford and Wheeler led the Indians to a third place finish. Crawford also attended the state tournament but failed to place in the top ten. Wheeler won the sweet swinger award to account for his low point average.

Jim Clevenger comes through with a powerful drive that puts him on the green.

Tommy Legan sweeps one out of the sand as Greg Crews looks on.

Girl Golfers Stroke to a 1-6 Season

Junior golfer Robyn Robertson demonstrates a putting technique to first year team member Lisa Gargas.

Composed of two seniors, three juniors, and one freshman, the girl golfers opened their season at home with a successful win over Doniphan. Doniphan fell behind by ten strokes. After the squad surpassed the Dons, competition strengthened. Falling to Sikeston twice, they dropped another pair to Cape Central and Poplar Bluff. The tribe was held together by outstanding players, Terri Toombs and Robyn Robertson. Robertson, who won the sweet swinger award, placed low point for the Indians. In final analysis one player explained, "We played our best."

Sand is an obnoxious obstacle for some golfers, but Terri Toombs seems to have the situation under control.

Burcham Leads Netters With Ace Award

Under the new leadership of Coach Tuck Boston, the netters fought to a 5-5 season. The Indians started out losing two straight, one to Poplar Bluff and another to Dexter. After their losses, the tribe came from behind to even their season 2-2 defeating Malden and Doniphan. They then fell back two more games losing to Caruthersville and Charleston. The Indians shut out Hayti 8-0 and then dropped another game to Dexter. The squad returned home and defeated Doniphan and Malden. "Britt Burcham played outstanding," stated Coach Tuck Boston. Burcham received the ace award for the second year in a row, supporting Coach Boston's statement.

Chris Willett returns an ace serve with a perfect forehand.

Garrett Caldwell comes through with an aggressive serve to ace his opponent.

Looking for a place to squeeze the ball, Senior Britt Burcham uses his powerful backhand.

Front Row: C. Willett, K. Wade, B. Davis. Second Row: J. Gamble, B. Burcham, Coach Tuck Boston, G. Caldwell, T. Sparks.

Six Netters Attend District Finals

Demonstrating a new technique, Senior Bette Crosson sends a forehand drive across to the opponent.

With five of the lady netters top six players returning from last year, the netters were set for action. Playing in a total of ten regular season games, the tribe courted four wins and six losses. The netters top four games were at home. They defeated Caruthersville, Sikeston, Doniphan, and Malden all in a stylish fashion.

Six players extended their play to the District Finals. Jill Lewis, Beverly Masterson, and Bette Crosson participated in the doubles competition while Kelly Cuff and Lisa Madden competed in the singles action. Madden who won the Ace Award, played well in the District Tournament but was eliminated in second round action. All but one of the lettermen will be returning next year.

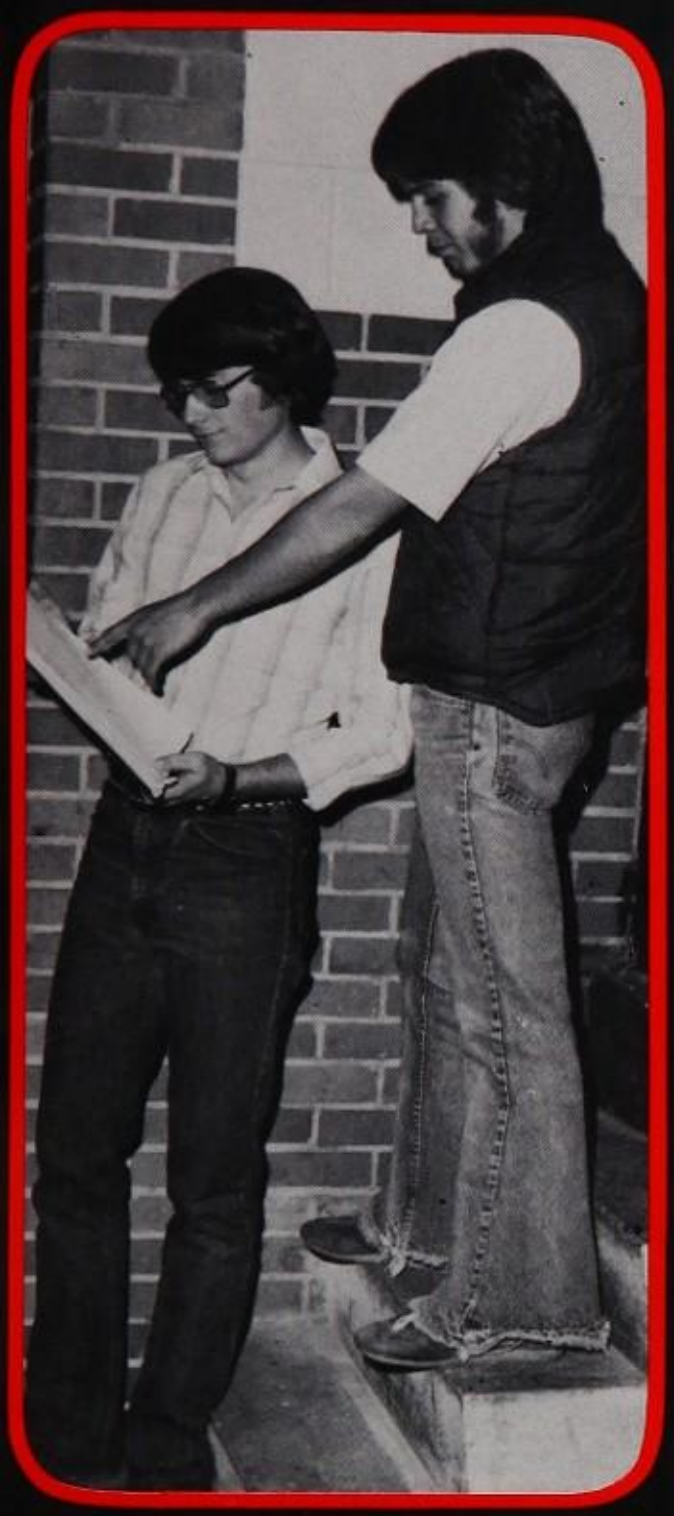
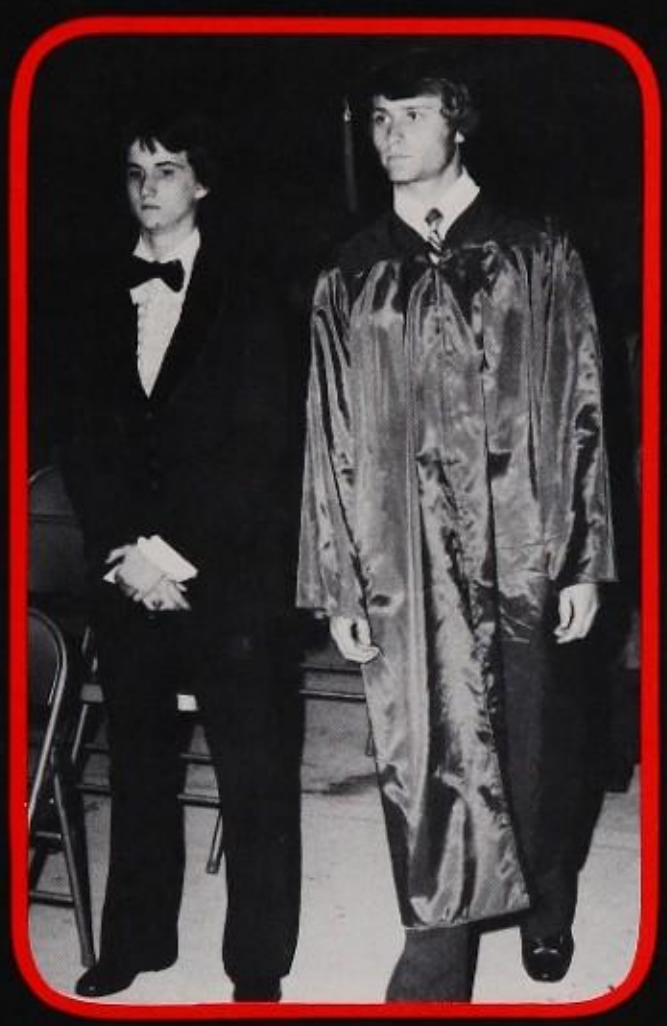
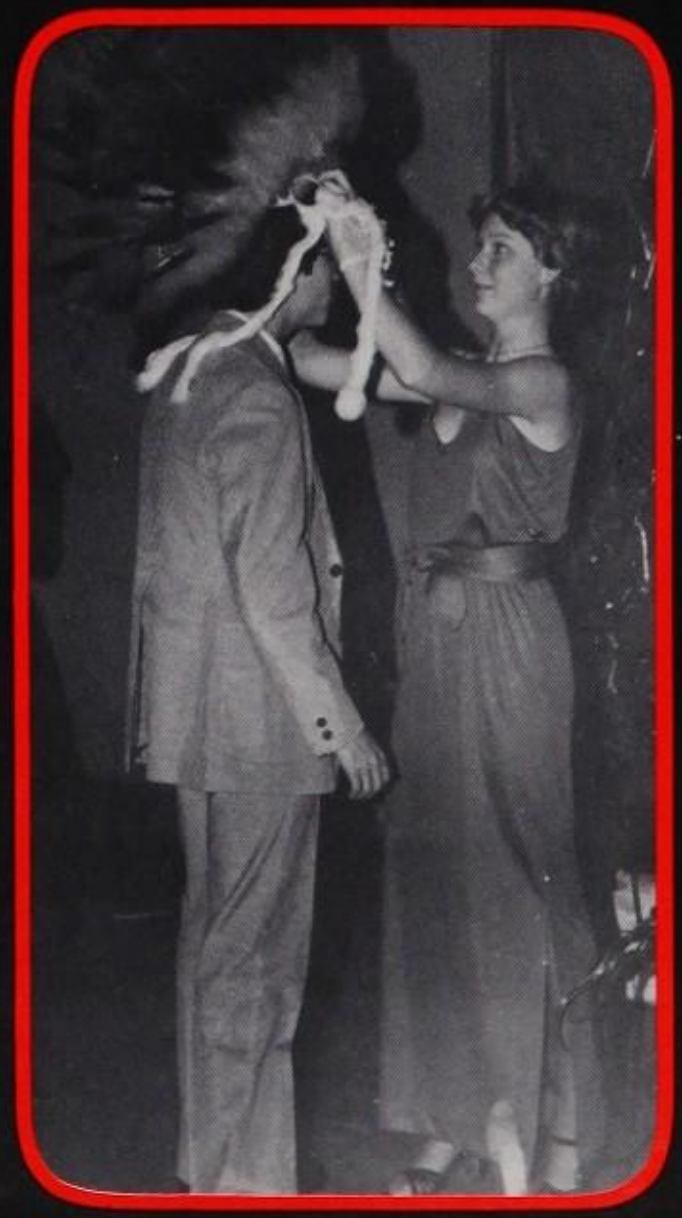
ACTIVITIES







New Activity Added to Homecoming

Activities of Homecoming, November 3, centered around the theme "Thank Goodness It's Friday." On Thursday, November 2, a new activity was added to the repertoire of events. First, a pep assembly was held on the courthouse steps. Next, on the agenda was a marathon led by the cheerleaders holding a lighted torch. The marathon was followed by a caravan of Indian fans. Activities concluded at the high school with a bonfire and spirit competition between classes. The spirit stick was awarded to the Senior class.

Festivities continued on Friday afternoon, beginning with an assembly. Succeeding the presentation of the queen and her court, the traditional Homecoming parade was held.

At 7:30 p.m., The Indian football team faced the East Prairie Eagles. During halftime festivities, the Homecoming Queen and her court were presented again and the Marching Indians entertained with a unique show. Disappointment prevailed however as the game closed with a 21-12 loss for the Indians.

Disc Jockey Britt James accompanied the dancers at the traditional dance which was climaxed by the final crowning of the queen.

Assembled in the back of a truck, the Pep band helps boost Indian spirit.

Throughout the pep rally, dynamic cheers are yelled by enthusiastic fans.

Fatigued dancers rest during a lull in the music.

Slow dancing finds Lisa Paine and Ricky Carnell discussing their plans following the dance.

Concentration seems to be lacking as Kevin Wade nonchalantly keeps time with the music.

Words of encouragement are spoken by football player, Steve Hubbard, as he attempts to pep up the fans.

Spirited fans cheer as they watch the Eagle go up in smoke.

Homecoming royalty is presented by Sr. Jim Clevenger.

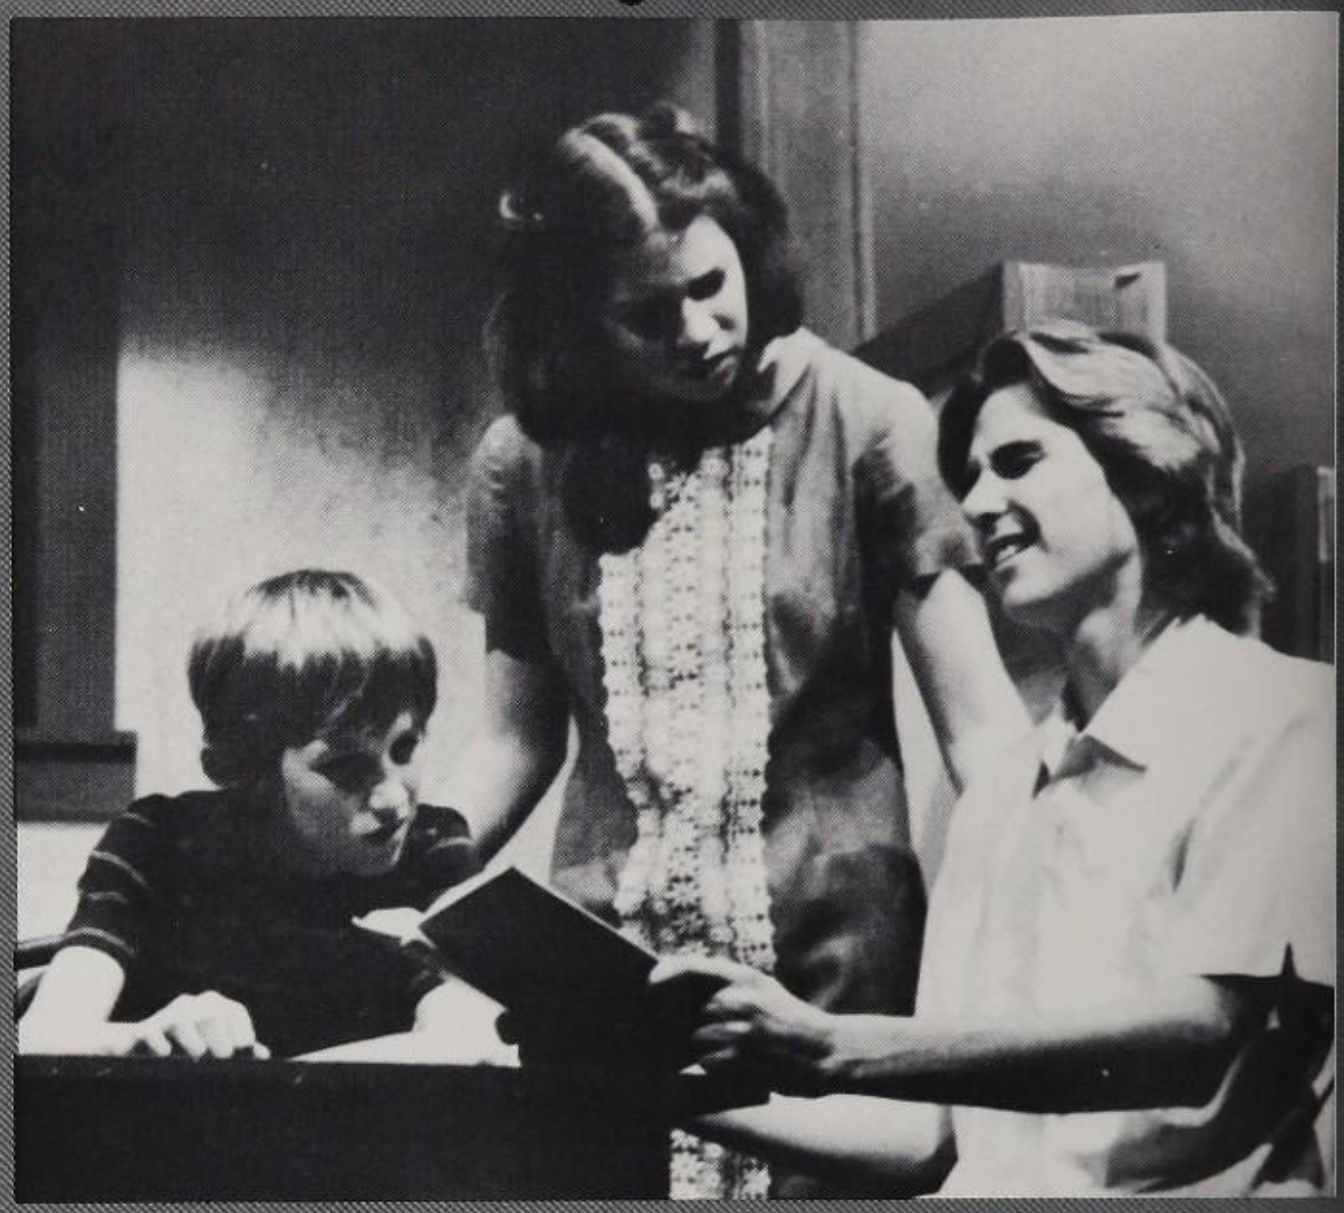
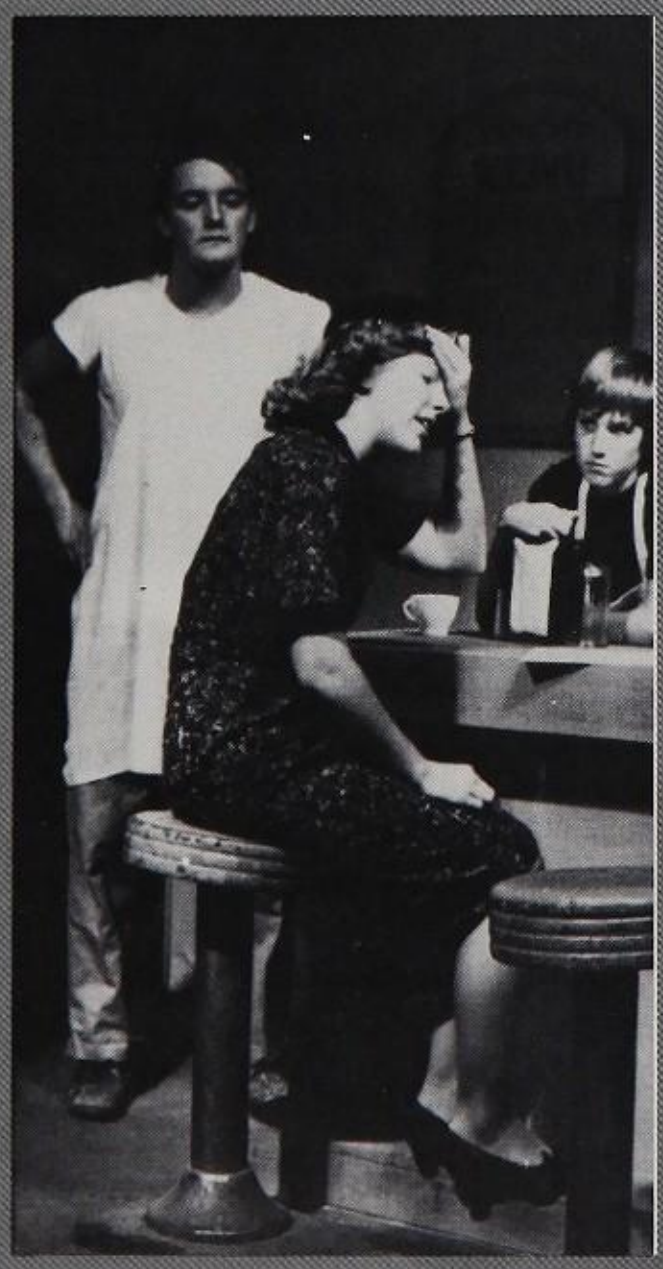
Mexican Dramatic Comedy Presented

Assisted by a 16 member cast and a large crew, the drama department, under the direction of Mr. Mike Crum, presented the dramatic comedy "Me Candido" by Walt Anderson November 29-December 1.

"Me Candido" is the challenging battle-cry of a homeless, eleven-year-old shoeshine boy, who is unofficially adopted by three fathers and one mother. The simple act of taking a boy in from the street conflicts with the Compulsory Education Law. Prohibited from working in the local restaurant, Candido was to be forced to attend school after his legal adoption. The entire neighborhood becomes involved in the struggle to keep Candido out of an institution. Amid humorous entanglements, the situation is finally resolved in a moving courtroom scene.



"Horse, Papa, horse," says Adelita (L. Hall) as she corrects Papa Gomez (J. Clevenger) in his reading.



Ms. Kelly (T. Lewis) is irritated because she can't get the accurate age of Candido.

Dopey Janey (J. Skaggs) tries to find out what's wrong with Joe (J. Smith).

truck at by a broom, the Social Worker (S. Pickard) is discouraged by Mama Gomez (K. orchers) not to take Candido (D. Dalton).

Yetta Rosenbloom (D. Hughes) informs the Social Worker that Candido is not going to the shelter.

amarez (M. Brown) is disgusted by Duffy's (S. Hubbard) philosophy, "One hand ashes the other."

"You put on too much selfishness," says Mike McGinty (P. Abbott) as he explains how Clarissa (K. Goodrich) used to be.

ard work and dedication are required of Director Mike Crum and Rehearsal Secretary ammy Napier as they attempt to perfect the fall play.

Seniors Create a "Snowbound Christmas"

Snow, candy canes, and Christmas trees were all a part of the 1979 Christmas Ball. The tables were adorned with centerpieces made of chocolate Santas surrounded by candy canes. An old hack served as the picturesque setting for the theme, "Snowbound Christmas."

Rock City, a rock group from Memphis, Tennessee, provided entertainment to highlight the excitement for the dancers. Christmas Ball climaxed with the announcement of Indian Chief and Princess, Robert Looney and Leisa Wilkerson.

John Gamble and Joe Stillman show their talents as they organize a well known group known as "The Candy Canes".

Slow music gives dancers Rebekah Faulkner and David Bolding a moment to relax.

"Rock City", a band from Memphis, added a note of rock n' roll for entertainment for the dancers at Christmas Ball.

Unaware that there is a photographer around, Sr. Jeff Lack is caught in the act of examining the Indian Chief's headdress.

Crew Members Provide Authenticity

Although the cast members are applauded for their efforts on the stage, numerous crew members diligently work backstage without applause. Various crews shift scenery and others work with wardrobe, sound, and lights. Directors, (dramatic, musical, and instrumental), an accompanist, an orchestra, rehearsal and musical secretaries, a stage manager, a choreographer, and drama classes combine their efforts to provide a successful production. They are to be commended. Without them the dramatic effort would lose its authenticity.

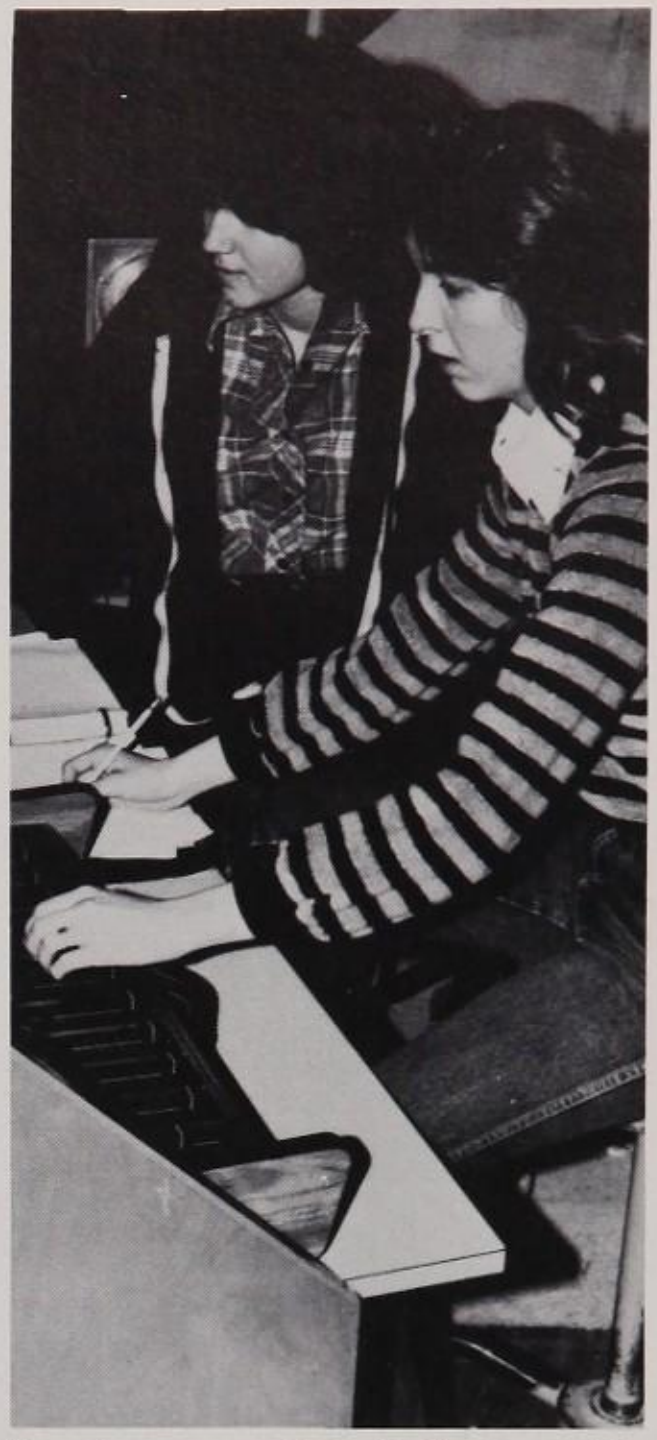
Music Secretary L. Landrum and Mr. James Finch discuss tempo change as Accompanist J. Hyde takes the fans through "You've Gotta Have Heart."

Final touchups are applied by makeup crew member A. Hellman.

Accompanying the singers, the backup band adds the final touch to the play.

Preparing the scenery for the first act, shift crew members C. Burdin, J. Forrest, J. Johnson, and S. Maxwell set up Joe Boyd's living room.

Prior to curtain time, Director Mike Crum discusses scenery setups with Rehearsal Secretary Dana Hughes.



Sound crew members S. Brown and L. Biggs create the ringing of the midnight bells in scene 25.

Preparations are made by prop crew member L. Wilkerson as she gathers the props for the ticket line.

Stage manager M. Brown and his assistant J. Clevenger, review the shift charts for the night.

Accurate cues are executed by light crew members R. Robertson and B. Collins as they set the lights over the baseball park.

Burcham Plays Lead in Damn Yankees

Damn Yankees — a business comedy based on Douglass Wallop's novel, The Year the Yankees Lost the Pennant, was presented by a 47 member cast on March 19-22.

Joe Boyd, a middle-aged baseball fan, is suffering because his favorite team, the Washington Senators never get very high in the race for the pennant. The devil, personified by Applegate, persuades Joe to trade his soul for a pennant-winning team. Joe then becomes Joe Hardy, a member of the Senators, who leads his team to the pennant. Homesick for his wife, Meg, whom he had to abandon suddenly, Joe rents a room in her house so he can be near her. To help lure Joe away from his wife, Applegate calls on his assistant, Lola. At first Lola looks upon this as just another seduction job until she falls in love with Joe. Following the winning of the pennant, Joe saves his soul and returns to his wife as the same middle-aged baseball fan.

Lola (J. Seaber), Mr. Applegate's accomplice, tries to seduce Joe (B. Burcham) before the ringing of the midnight bell.

Gloria the Reporter (A. Cash) sings about Shoeless Joe, the new baseball player drafted by the Senators.

Patrick Abbott, the sly, swindling devil, Mr. Applegate, executes his dance step while singing "Those were the Good Ole Days."

"Some of the best living is done at night, believe me," exclaims Sister (K. Prance) as she tries to persuade Doris (B. Madden) to sleep in the ticket line.

Thinking Joe Hardy is just a rookie, the Washington Senators are amazed as they watch the ball go over the fence.

Under the direction of Sister (K. Prance), the fans join in the singing of "You've Got to Have Heart."

As the baseball season opens, the wives of dedicated Senator fans sing, "Instead of praising our goulash, they're appraising the plays of Willie Mays . . ."

Young Joe Hardy and Meg Boyd comfort each other as they sing "Near to You."

Local newspaper reporters, (L. to R.) L. Richardson, J. Smith, J. Farmer, T. Vavak, gather the latest story on the Joe Hardy scandal.

Eagles' Hit Chosen as Prom Theme

It comes only once a year, twice in a lifetime . . . the Junior-Senior Prom. Preparations for the event started weeks in advance when the theme was selected and the band engaged. One week prior to the event the Juniors began transforming the American Legion Building into the selected theme, "The Long Run," a hit by the Eagles.

On the evening of May 3, 1980, at 8:00 p.m., "The Long Run" was opened to invited guests for an evening filled with fun and excitement. The Junior hosts and hostesses presented memory scrolls to each couple as they entered. In the center of the floor was a tunnel of love. Adorning the walls were scenes of people running.

The dancers were accompanied by the sounds of "Steeler." Highlighting the evening was the presentation of Prom Queen Beverly Rebstock by Junior Class President Luke Richardson. When the clock struck midnight, the music faded as Juniors, Seniors, and their dates left the Prom with mixed emotions of happiness and sadness.

Following the Prom, an after-Prom dance, sponsored by the Seniors' parents, was held at the Kennett Country Club. Entertainment was brought to the students by Hotdog Disco, Britt James. At 4:00 a.m. a breakfast was held at the home of Jo Beth Skaggs. The evening concluded with a swimming party at the home of Debbie Tate.

Following an evening at the Prom, Judy Seaber and Mike Brown indulge in the tasty refreshments served at the after Prom dance.

"Oh my gosh, they just announced you as Prom Queen," exclaims Jr. Matt Collier to his date, Sr. Beverly Rebstock.

Strolling through the tunnel of love, Mike Vavak, Capitola Blanchard, Ann Cash, and Tommy Vavak fancy a world of fantasy.

Jr. Matt Collier prepares the frame for the picture background.

Flattered by Sr. Keith Rebstock's charm, Jr. Kim Sitz seems to be in another world.

Proposals seem to become relatively simple for Sr. David Patton as he invites Jr. Jane Workman to dance with him.

Upon their arrival, Prom guests Perry Faught and Penny Simmons receive their favors from Jr. host, Darrell Cox.

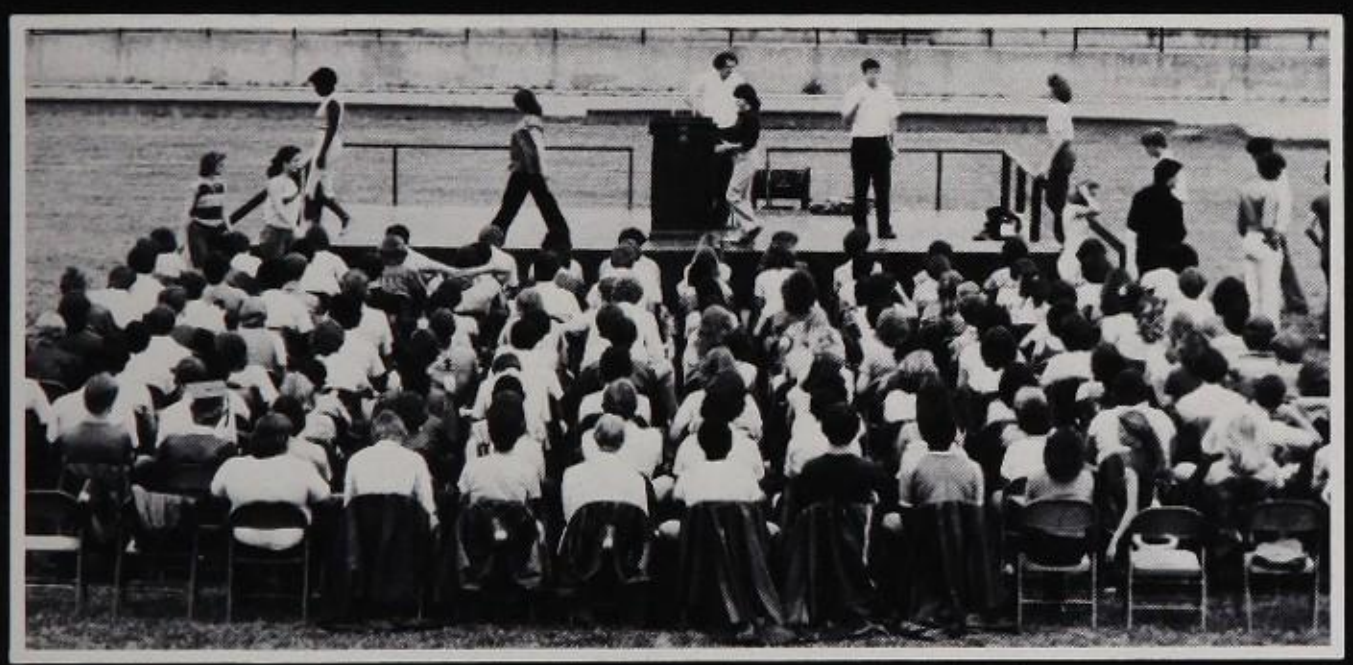
Record-Breaking Number Receive Diplomas

"Looks like we made it . . .," states Cara Richardson as she concludes her commencement speech.

Escorted by Jr. usher Sherri Huffstutler, Vickie Beck marches to her seat.

Graduation . . . a time to remember. Seniors began their final activities May 18 with Baccalaureate Services. The message was delivered by Reverend Wayne Norton. The class assembled for their last social activity on Monday, May 19, at the Senior Banquet held at the Country Club. Following their meal, entertainment was provided by senior classmates. Finally, on Thursday, May 22, a record-breaking 168 seniors, received their diplomas. Mixed emotions accompanied the graduates as they departed from their old way of life into their new one.



Practice for an outdoor commencement exercise proved useless because unexpected weather took graduates to the gym for the ceremonies.

Jubilant seniors end their high school years with the traditional hat toss.

Five minutes before time to march in, LaDon Brannum finds she can't get her gown zipped.

Gas Will Be Plentiful, Stable in Price Through Memorial Day

By DAILY DEMOCRAT
Staff Newsman

Missouri motorists will have more gasoline than they can burn over the Memorial Day weekend, and, on the average, they'll pay about the same for it as they did a month ago, federal Department of Energy spokesmen in St. Louis and Kansas City said this week.

In fact, said DOE officials, many stations are cutting their gasoline prices several cents below the legal maximum price of 16.1 cents above retailer costs because of "competition and surplus supply."

The average legal maximum price of gasoline in Missouri, according to DOE figures released Tuesday, is $1.25 a gallon for regular. But many stations have set their self service regular pumps at $1.18, and one St. Louis station was reportedly selling self-service regular for $1.13. According to the Lundberg Letter, an oil industry publication, the national average price of regular gasoline was $1.24 at the end of April.

DOE district office official Gerald Cooper of Kansas City said that gasoline prices were uniform throughout the state, within a cent or two, and that the legal maximum prices reported by the seven major oil companies in Missouri were identical in both Kansas City and St. Louis.

Those reported maximums are: Amoco, regular $1.26, regular unleaded $1.30, unleaded premium $1.34; Mobil, regular $1.24, regular unleaded $1.28, premium $1.30; Texaco, regular $1.25, regular unleaded $1.29; Phillips, regular $1.25, regular unleaded $1.29; Shelly regular $1.26, unleaded regular $1.28, unleaded premium $1.29; Conoco, regular $1.26, unleaded regular $1.30; Fina, regular $1.25, unleaded regular $1.27.

As shown above, several of the oil companies submitting figures to DOE are not selling premium grades of gasoline, and some, said Cooper, are not even refining premium.

"These are average current maximum prices," said Ray Downing of the St. Louis DOE office. "Most people are selling for under that. Gasoline is readily available, and there is a lot of competition. Most stations, self-service stations especially, are not charging anywhere near the maximum."

A Daily Democrat ramdom survey of several Dunklin County service stations revealed that local motorists are paying slightly over $1.18 a gallon for self-service regular gasoline, and $1.23 for unleaded regular self-service.

Premium gasoline was available at only two of the nine stations questioned in the survey, and was reported selling for $1.26 and $1.29.

FILLING UP FOR THE HOLIDAY won't be the headache it was last year for Missouri motorists. Department of Energy figures for Missouri report more than adequate supplies of gasoline and stable prices throughout the state.

Rain Couldn't Dampen Spirits at KHS Commencement Exercise

By DAILY DEMOCRAT
Staff Newsman

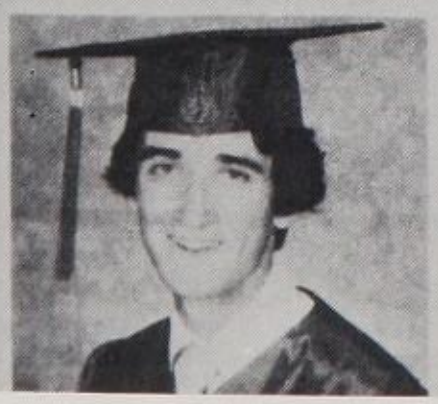
Intermittent rainfall throughout the day neither dampened the enthusiasm nor diminished the numbers of the parents, brothers and sisters, relatives and friends at Thursday evening's Kennett High School commencement exercises.

Despite the close confines of the KHS gymnasium, a standing-room-only crowd of well-wishers turned out to see the largest graduating class in the history of Kennett High School — 168 strong — graduate in a ceremony remarkable both for its dignity and its relative brevity, considering the momentous occasion.

Those gathered for the commencement exercise heard Britt Douglas Burcham stress the need for all of the graduating seniors to leave their mark upon the world, to build bridges and blaze paths through adversity for those who will follow. Burcham's initial address was followed by a recollection and a celebration of the human relationships developed by the graduating seniors, delivered by Nora Joanne Carter.

John Hall Dalton Jr. followed with a tongue-in-cheek appraisal of the important events in life and the motivation necessary for success.

SALUTATORIAN LEISA CHOATE WILKERSON



Finally, Cara Leigh Richardson reviewed the Class of 1980's past collective and individual accomplishments, offering them as evidence of a bright promise of future achievements.

Those future achievements, however, scarcely dimmed the luster of the awards and honors accorded the top graduating seniors by their friends and fellow Kennett residents in the awards presentation.

Dalton, Leisa Choate Wilkerson and Burcham were honored as the valedictorian, salutatorian and best all-around student, respectively, of the graduating class.

Joseph Lynn Farmer was awarded the Bertha Kohn Memorial Award and returned to the stage moments later to accept the $1,500 Cotton Exchange Bank Annual Award. Leisa Wilkerson and Jaime Leigh Dester were named first and second alternates

Energy Fair Set for Malden

Malden's community center is scheduled to be the site of an energy fair on June 24, sponsored by the Bootheel Regional Planning Commission.

Invitations have been sent to more than 300 exhibitors asking them to display energy-saving products at the event. According to the coordinator for the fair, Mike Downing, several local companies have indicated they will participate.

"Most of them are from Sikeston, Malden and New Madrid," he said. "We're not going to try to compete with the one in Blytheville, though, because we don't have the budget they did." Downing said he has other large companies on his list that he will contact soon, hoping to add them to the lineup of exhibitors.

Three films from the Missouri Department of Energy will be shown at the fair, including, "Energy for the Future," concerning alternative energy sources; "Saving Energy at Home"; and a film aimed at junior high and high school students, "When the Circuit Breaks."

A total of five slide shows will run continuously during the one-day

No Publication Monday

The Daily Dunklin Democrat will not publish an edition on Monday, May 26, in observance of the Memorial Day national holiday.

All area banks, savings institutions and most offices and stores will also be closed for the holiday, along with federal, state, county and municipal government offices.

The Daily Democrat will resume publication on Tuesday, May 27. In the interim, the management and staff of the DDD wish all our readers a happy and safe holiday. Drive carefully!

Accident Victim Is Stable

A Kennett girl injured in a truck accident Thursday morning was reported in satisfactory condition today at a Memphis, Tenn., hospital.

A spokesman for the Methodist Hospital's downtown facility in Memphis said Stephanie Walls, age 11, was being kept for observation in the hospital's neuro-trauma unit. The young Kennett girl, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Walls of 1801 Travis Drive, was stable and her condition at the time was "not serious," the hospital spokesman said.

The Walls girl was injured in an 8:15 a.m. accident at the intersection of Independence Avenue and the North Bypass when a truck driver tried to steer his vehicle into the ditch to avoid hitting a crowd of Masterson School students crossing the intersection.

Stephanie was struck while crossing the shoulder of the highway with her bike, authorities said.

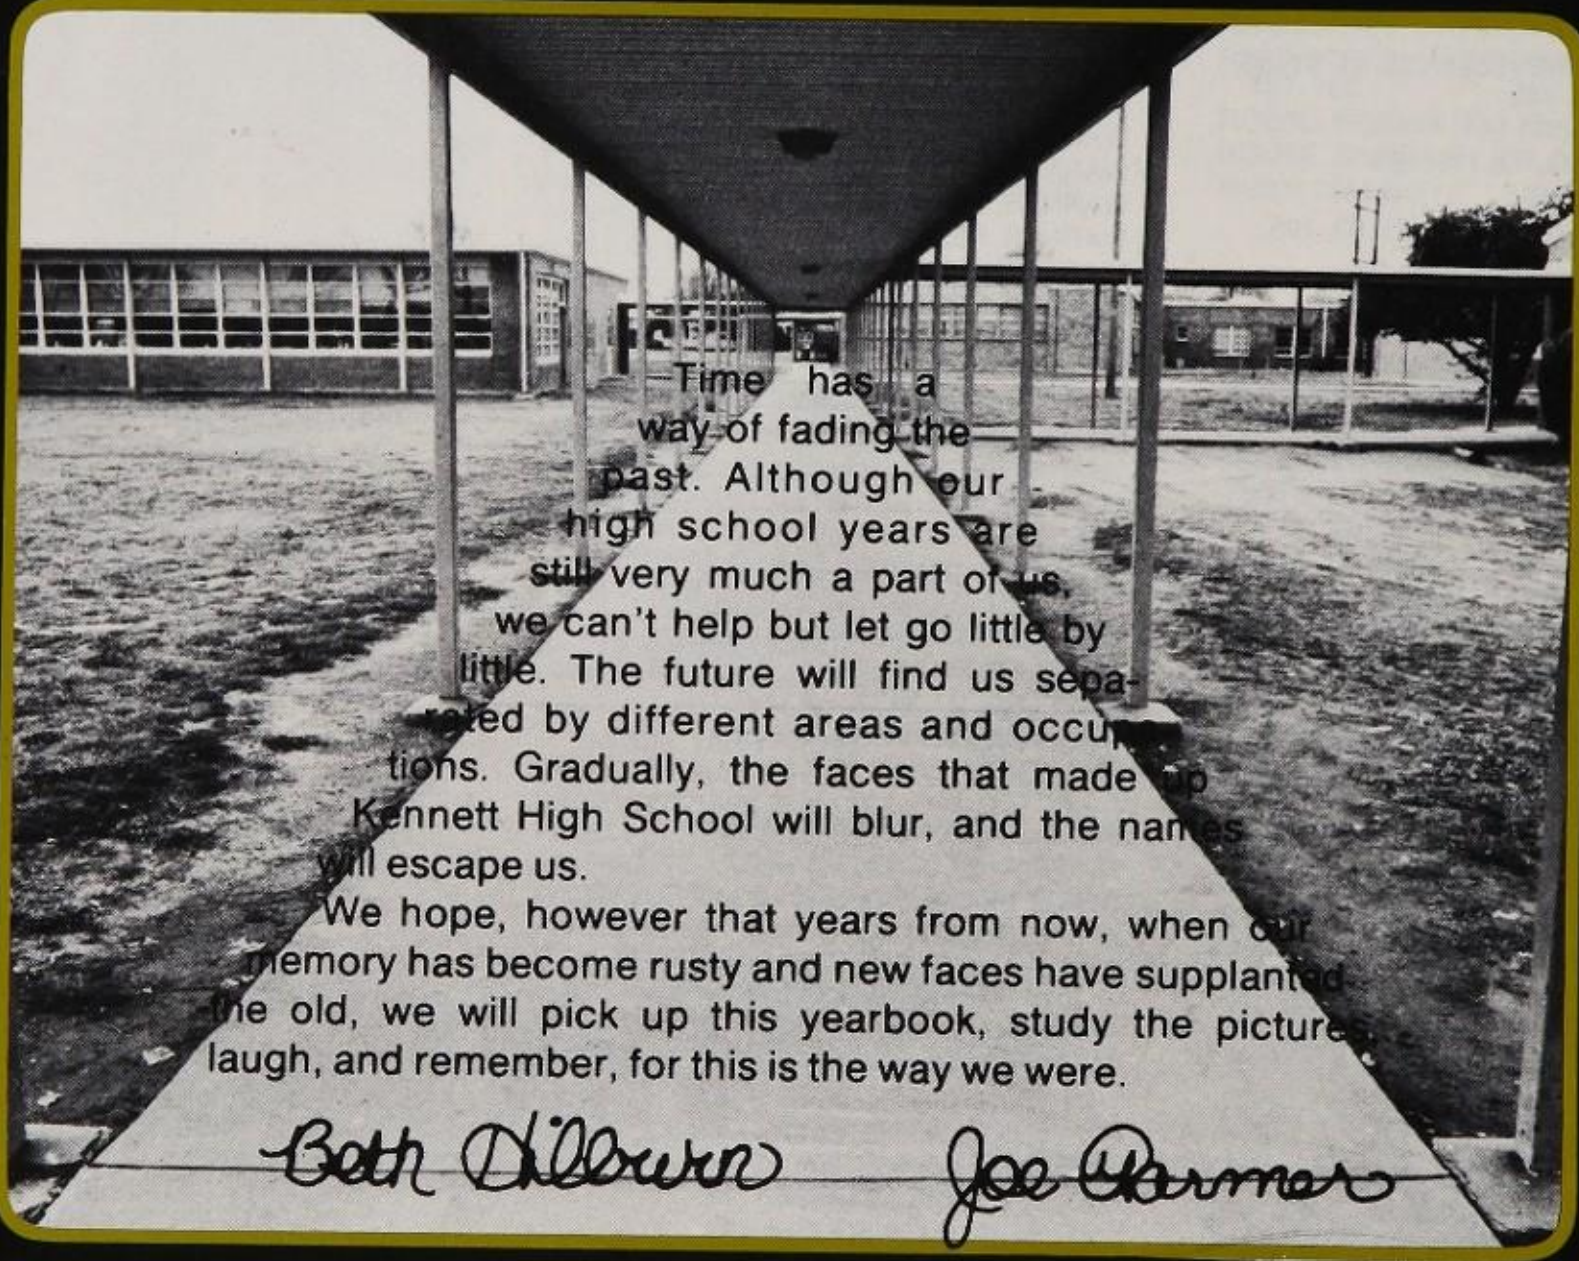
ZEISS, DONNA (Fr.)



Time has a way of fading the past. Although our high school years are still very much a part of us, we can't help but let go little by little. The future will find us separated by different areas and occupations. Gradually, the faces that made up Kennett High School will blur, and the names will escape us.

We hope, however that years from now, when our memory has become rusty and new faces have supplanted the old, we will pick up this yearbook, study the pictures, laugh, and remember, for this is the way we were.
